COME RIGHT ALONG

Portsmouth Invites herself to Maysville on the Fourth.

Portsmouth Tribune.

WHY NOT MARYSVILLE?

Our sister city deserves a sister. Marysville is the home of one of our old time Fourth of July celebrations this year.

As we are all going away some place on the Fourth, why not go to Marysville?

Royal good people down there.

Certainly you're right along. Bring your wives, your sweethearts, your sisters and everybody else's sisters and your cousins, and your sons—bring your entire population and your hustling town as well—we'll be glad to see you, them and it, and will do our level best to make your stay pleasant.

If residents of neighboring cities would visit each other oftener and get better acquainted there would be more happiness in the world.

The three hundred operatives of the Maysville Cotton Mills will picnic at Dieterich's Park on the Fourth of July.

The ladies of the West End Mission are making arrangements to give them a big dinner on the grounds, and they will solicit donations of provisions for that picnic.

GETTING WARM!

The Lexingtonians Are Being Stirred Up at Last.

A special from Lexington says the feeling between the Catholics and the members of the American Protective Association is becoming very bitter there.

Professor Walter Sims of Wisconsin is in the city and lectured to a large crowd at the Opera house one night and also to another good-sized audience the next night.

The Chief of Police was on hand with two Lieutenants, one Captain and a number of patrolmen to preserve the peace.

Nearly all these officers are Catholics, and this caused much complaint from the members of the Association.

Rev. Father James P. Barry, who has charge of St. Paul's Catholic Church here, is doing his fighting through the newspapers, contributing a column or so to the afternoon paper, and nearly as much in one of the morning papers.

This has caused much talk among the Protestants.

NOW CARE FOR THE AGED!

Summer, With Its Debilitating Weather, Is Here.

The Best of Thought and Care is Due to the Old People—For Them to Be Strong and Happy, Refreshing Sleep is Necessary—Paine's Celery Compound Must Now Be Taken.

Young people in the flush of health are apt to forget that the aged need help more frequently than they do to ward off weakness and to check disease.

Because there are no remedies of any specific disease they think nothing can be done. They forget that the weaknesses of old age are general weaknesses, a difficulty of the slow organs of digestion and assimilation to properly feed the nerves and body.

The one great need, as debilitating weather comes on, is for new, rich blood, free from the poisonous humors that invariably result from a stagnant condition.

The certainty with which Paine's Celery Compound quickly sends new blood to every part of the body is shown by a stronger pulse, fuller heart beats, and a brightening of the eyes.

Men and women are indebted to Professor Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., of Dartmouth Medical School for the discovery of the great nerve regulator and blood-cirrifier—the best and final fruit of a long life devoted to the study of weakness of nerve tissues, and its natural remedy.

Paine's Celery Compound gently stirs the workings of all the vital organs, feeds the nerves when waste in their tissues has exceeded the repair, and thus relieves nervous prostration, dyspepsia and disorders of the liver, kidneys and heart.

It builds up wasted bodies, frees weak nerves and nerve centers of irritability by supplying rich, abundant blood to build up the worn-out tissues. When there is general debility, lassitude, a loss of appetite and a lack of interest in life that comes at this season; when one looks wretched, and feels so all over, this great modern remedy goes straight to the source of the weakness and immediately gives strength and a vigor of mind and body such as must follow perfect nutrition of every organ and part of the body.

The lives of thousands of men and women past middle age who think it time to stop work, might be prolonged to many years of usefulness if they would only use Paine's Celery Compound, the great modern blood and nerve restorative. It will give new life, ambition and cheerfulness, as it did to Lewis C. Crossen of North Colenton, N. Y., who writes: "Paine's Celery Compound has done me a great deal of good. I have been afflicted with insomnia, nervous chills, loss of strength, and poor digestion for some time, also loss of memory, and all of these troubles are much better now. I have gained in weight since I commenced its use and am much better and stronger in every way. I shall recommend the Compound to all others."

Mrs. Ed. Huron of West Third street, who has been suffering for some days with a slight attack of typhoid fever, is now some better.

THE TARIFF.

Democratic Leaders Fear the Result of a Vote.

Senator Hill's Fight Against the Income Tax Causes Uneasiness.

The Doubtful Attitude of the Three Popular Senators—Hercy Means Resorted to to Patch Up Party Differences and Protect the Populists.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The tariff bill is in a crisis. Its fate is so definitely balanced between sudden death and safe arrival next week in conference that the Bourbon advocates of the bill are nervous.

It is a fact that the bill could not have been passed Wednesday if it had been brought to a vote. That is the judgment of the republican leaders. The democratic leaders, who were content with this, are in a quandary. They do regard what is here stated as a fact, as a dangerous possibility. Senators Gorman, Jones, of Arkansas, Vest and other democratic managers are keenly alive to this danger. Their plan is to patch up the differences, if they have closed a break in their ranks.

This situation is caused, in part, by the terrific fight which Senator Hill is making against the income tax, in part by the growing uneasiness of the democratic senators from Alabama and West Virginia, who fear that the influence of the administration will be used in the house or in conference to add coal and iron ore to the free list, and even more by the doubtful attitude of three populists, Senators Allen, Kyle and Irby.

Senators Allen and Kyle have again mounted the fence, which they have straddled so successfully, to extort various concessions, including free lumber and free wire, from the democrats. They are both frightened and uncertain. They have been deluged with letters protesting against the sugar schedule, and Senator Allen's mail, especially, has been filled with remonstrances against the destruction of the beet sugar industry. Each has also been assailed with arguments and entreaties against the bill.

Even more serious to the mind of Senator Allen is the threatened renewal of the charge made by Senator Chandler that Senator Allen's support of the bill would be the result of "bargains" in the schedules and in the free list. He is also worried about the allying of the various amendments to the tariff bill made by Senator Jones, of Arkansas, to show that they followed threats made by Senator Allen or by Senator Kyle, or by both, that they would vote against the bill unless every demand was granted.

An architect of this character, supported by facts as set forth in the Congressional Record, would place Senators Allen and Kyle in a position so painful that in the face of the charges against them they would be compelled to give in with their demands.

The existing doubt as to the vote of Senator Irby also worries Senators Allen and Kyle. Senators Lindsay and Jones were laboring with Senator Irby a large part of the day, trying to extort some pledge that he would remain in the democratic camp. The result of their efforts was still in doubt Wednesday night.

And he referred sarcastically to the alliance between Mr. Gray, Mr. Hill, Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Chandler. No vote was taken on the bill.

Mrs. John Shethon is slowly recovering from her recent illness.

Home Raines attended the funeral of his cousin, Wyly Evans Monday.

Mrs. Thomas Chunn spent several days of last week with relatives near Manchester.

Arthur Hudson now answers the title of "papa," and is correspondingly happy. It's a boy.

The funeral of Wyly Evans occurred Monday from the family residence near Hiett P. O.

BERNARD.

Farmers are rejoicing over a good rain. Moses Ruggles of Poplar Flat was the guest of J. Kirkland last Saturday.

Our general merchant, Charles Case, was with his parents and newborn nephew Sunday.

A. C. Hawk is smiling. When asked what, of course he replied, "We have a nine-pound baby at our home."

We will inform our city merchants that blacksmiths are going to be scarce this year and that they had better look out for something else.

Wheat cutting is now the order of the day. Farmers can be self binding running on every farm. What an improvement over 50 years ago.

George E. Curtis and Sylvester Davis will start next week with their threshing. Luck to you, gentlemen, but remember that a sow is low and be merciful on the farmers for her.

Mrs. Wielhart and daughter Ethel of New Castle, Ind., are visiting their many friends and relatives of this the Orangeburg neighborhood. As Mrs. Wielhart was raised here she has many friends who are glad to meet her again in "Her Old Kentucky Home."

The Maywood of the Baptist Church gave a picnic in the beautiful lawn of John Wells last Saturday. The leaders did their best to make every body enjoy themselves and it is believed that the meeting was a success for the benefit of the church, and as your humble writer gets it, they cleared about $15.

Maysville is a beautiful place, situated on the Ohio river, 64 miles East of Cincinnati. It is a place of great beauty and the prospect is good for another year.

There are quite a number of its handsome young gentlemen and lovely young ladies, with a forest of trees and a summer season for the cool fresh country air. The following is a list of those who have been in our neighborhood in the past year: Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wells, Miss Alice Bell, guests of George Wells's family; Miss Agnes Easton and Mrs. West Overly and son, Charles Purcell, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Purcell, Mr. and Mrs. Cuba Seddon, Miss Alice Wheeler, Duba Thomas and Will Woodworth, guests of the Lloyd Family; Elbert Trisler, guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Purcell, who have done our best to entertain them with us. Would they notice us if they should meet us on the streets of their beautiful city?

We had a nice specimen of humidity to show up in church last Sunday at Stone Lick in the form of a young man whose name we will not circulate any more.
